But it seems that only Google Play offers music service on Fossil Sport instead of Spotify.. The Spotify Wear OS app uses any available connectivity, including Wi-Fi, LTE, and Bluetooth, to play music.. Now from your wrist, you can manage connections between Bluetooth speakers, laptops, and other devices and quickly change the playback source.. You could let your Fossil Sport pair with Bluetooth headphones and then listen to music.. That will inevitably disappoint those with Wear OS smartwatches with enough onboard storage to hold a couple of playlists.

Unlike Tizen's Spotify app, the Wear OS app doesn't support downloading music for offline playback.. Spotify's stand-alone app lets you browse and control music from your wrist It seems to be a lighter version of Spotify's mobile app, allowing you to browse your tracks and playlists and quickly save songs to your library.. Feb 28, 2017 Sep 05, 2020 Wear OS gains a popular new app today that many have been waiting for, as Spotify announced that it's bringing a stand-alone wearable app to Google's smartwatch platform.. I'm also currently hoping to buy a newer smartwatch that runs Wear OS soon Seems like one Google product not offering support for another Google product is preventing me from investing in an additional Google.

Spotify is supported on Garmin and Samsung smartwatches Apple and Wear OS also have a Spotify app but it's more like a Spotify remote and doesn't support offline playback.. I guess that you could use a Spotify ripper to sync Spotify to Google Play and then stream Spotify to Fossil Sport.. You can also control playback from your wrist—it appears similar to Wear OS' native music controls, just built into a dedicated Spotify app.
